Reunion ... After 29 Years

Mrs. Joseph E. O'Hara and her brother, Joseph Soucy, have something to be happy about . . . for this is their first meeting in 29 years. Separated when they were orphaned and adopted by families in Medford and Grand Isle, Me., they located each other last week . . . and arranged this meeting in Cambridge, where Mrs. O'Hara now resides. Soucy, 32, recently was honorably discharged from the Army. Now they plan to try to locate a second brother whom they believe to be in Maine.

Smash Ahead On West Front

By WILLIAM FRYE

LONDON, Nov. 16 (AP)—Gen. Eisenhower's winter offensive smashed forward on the western front everywhere except in the U. S. First Army sector in the Aachen area today. From within sight of the Swiss Alps to the marshes of Holland, Allied armies hammered the Germans toward their pre-war frontier.

The First French Army, latest of Eisenhower's forces to spring into action, plowed forward on a 25-mile front on both sides of the Doubs river to a point within 11 miles of Belfort in the historic gap to the Rhine.

Allied northern armies in Holland, punching out a seven-to-eight-mile gain in two days, drove to within a mile of the Maas in the Roermond area and within 38 miles of Dusseldorf on the Rhine.

A sudden break north of Metz, old Roman fortress which never has been taken by storm in modern times, brought U. S. Third Army troops in their eight-day old offensive to within a mile and a half of the northern outskirts of the city, although the Americans to the southeast and west gave ground slightly, losing one fort and a village.

North of Metz the Americans astride the Maginot Line pushed forward another mile near Ewendorf, only four miles from the German frontier.

Below Metz the Seventh Army took Ste. Pole, 42 miles from Strasbourg, the closest the Allies have yet come to that key crossing of the Rhine.

Lt. Gen. Patton's Third Army southeast of Metz captured Racrange, a mile beyond Morhange where doughboys were last reported in possession of two-thirds of the town, and clung to high ground in the forest of Bride and Koecking.

Patton's men were fighting off a series of small counterattacks. One was just outside Bourgaltroff at the tip of the wedge between Morhange and Dieuze. There the Fourth Armored Division's tanks knocked out at least two tanks in a battle and then withdrew into the Bride and Koecking wood.

While U. S. Third Army tanks and infantry hammered at the southern outskirts of Metz around Magny, units on the west side of the Moselle punched down from the north and seized the village of Woippy, between two of the great forts guarding the city.

Woippy was occupied by the 95th Division's 379th Regiment after breaking through for three miles. However, the 379th lost Ft. Hubert, west of Metz, to an enemy flank attack.

Although resistance was stiffening before Metz, the German radio was busy discounting the citadel's importance in comments broadcast to German listeners, a procedure suggesting Berlin might be expecting the city's fall.

Snow and mud hampered the ground operations on all sectors. Bad weather also held down air operations. Fighter-bomber attacks near Thionville were the only ground support missions reported by the Allied communique.

CHURCHILL'S JAP PLAN

LONDON, Nov. 16 (INS)—Prime Minister Churchill told the House of Commons today: "Until Japan has been defeated the war must have first call on all our efforts."

HITLER MAY BE ON WAY TO SEE MIKADO

LONDON, Nov. 16 (INS)—A suggestion that Adolf Hitler, probably accompanied by Hermann Goering, may be on his way to Japan for a spectacular east-west Axis meeting with the Mikado, was made in the London Daily Herald by Willi Frischauer, an expert on German affairs.

Frischauer, who wrote that for the past 20 years he had been observing and interpreting Hitler's personality, said Hitler may attempt such a trip as a counter-blast against the meetings of Prime Minister Churchill, President Roosevelt and Marshal Stalin.

The trip, he added, could be made by submarine or by air over Russia or the polar regions in the latest Nazi long distance planes.

A Stockholm dispatch to the London Daily Mail said Hitler had appointe Gestapo Chief Himmler deputy fuehrer and his personal successor at a meeting of Nazi party leaders in the Berlin chancellery two days ago.

Hitler himself was not present at the meeting of the party secretariat, it was said, and Reich Minister Lammers read the proclamation.

The meeting was said to have been attended by Himmler, Goebbels, Bormann, head of the secretariat, Adm. Doenitz and Field Marshal Keitel.

Absent From Rites for Ace

LONDON, Nov. 16 (INS)—German radio reports disclosed that neither Adolf Hitler nor Hermann Goering were present at the state funeral for Maj. Walter Nowotny, the Luftwaffe's leading ace who was credited by the Nazis with having made 258 kills.

As chief of the Luftwaffe, Goering has attended practically all of the funerals for his leading aces who have been shot down.

KILLED IN ACTION — Lt. Sylvan Feld, 26, of Cherry st., Lynn, a fighter pilot, is dead today as a result of wounds suffered in combat over France. He had a record of nine planes shot down and many probables, and was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross and Air Medal.

REDS CRACK NAZI FLANK AT BUDAPEST

By DANIEL DE LUCE

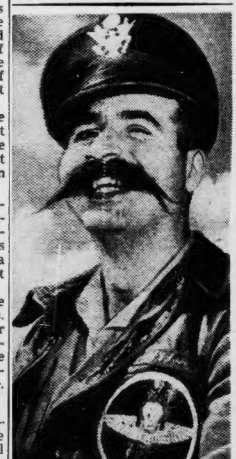
MOSCOW, Nov. 16 (AP)—The Red Army has cracked the German flank east of Budapest, and is hurling its armored might through a breach within 12 miles of the Hungarian capital, front dispatches said today. A decisive battle for control of the invasion routes to Austria appeared imminent.

A sustained pounding by wave after wave of Marshal Malinovsky's assault forces forced the enemy into a damaging withdrawal from more than 50 towns and villages, including the large railway junction of Jaszbereny.

The German withdrawal extended along a 100-mile front from Mende, 12 miles southeast of Budapest, to Korom and other towns.

Other Russian formations of tanks, cavalry and infantry, supported by swarms of attack planes, drove straight north in a continuation of the challenge for mastery of the highway and railway communications leading to Vienna.

The key communication points of Godollo, 15 miles northeast of Budapest, and Hatvan, 30 miles northeast, appeared to be the prize objectives of the northward push. Red Army columns were barely a dozen miles from each.



MUSTACHE MAGNIFICENT —Capt. Angelo J. Boutselis of Lowell, arrived at Miami, Fla., after 18 months in the China-Burma-India theater of operations, sporting this magnificent spread of mustache. Capt. Boutselis is a veteran of 72 missions in B-25's and holds the DFC and the Air Medal with clusters. International News Photo

Yanks Overrun New Jap Isles

By Associated Press War Editor

The U. S. Sixth Army today tightened a triangular trap on the cornered enemy in the Philippines while 900 miles to the rear American invasion forces seized the Mapia Islands as a protective move.

A small amphibious force Wednesday overwhelmed meager resistance in the Mapia landings, 150 miles north of western Dutch New Guinea.

The invasion knocks out lookout posts from which Japanese spotters warned that U. S. bombers were on the way from Biak.

In other Oriental war theaters British submarines knocked off 24 more Japanese ships, Australia formally announced the enemy threat of invasion had vanished, and Chungking expressed growing fears of an invasion of interior China.

In the Philippines a double envelopment movement by the U. S. 24th Division on northern Leyte island "practically severed the Ormoc road" on northern Leyte and trapped several thousand Jap troops around Limon, Gen. MacArthur announced. The 24th is 14 miles north of Ormoc.

The advancing Seventh Division "bloodily repulsed" enemy counter-attacks at Balogo, 10 miles south of Ormoc. This is the closest American forces have come to the Jap stronghold.

First Cavalry and 96th Infantry Division elements pressed across the mountainous center of the island. Dismounted cavalrymen, who have turned mountaineers on Leyte, seized three more peaks.

PT boats and Yank planes lashed what shipping they could find in the bay west of Ormoc.

The London radio announced East African troops in southern Burma have seized Kalemyo, an advanced Japanese base.

Japanese forces in Kwangsi have advanced to within four and a half miles of the Kwanksi-Kweichow railway town of Ishan, which blocks the way toward an invasion of the hinterland Province of Kweichow.

(The Tokyo radio declared the walled city of Ishan and its airport were captured.)

One column of invaders made the deepest penetration from the northeast, 43 miles west of fallen Liuchow. Another struck directly from the east.

War Showdown Near, Nazi Says

LONDON, Nov. 16 (AP)—A German radio commentator, Martin Hallensleben, predicted today that this winter would bring a "showdown" in the European war.

He also began preparing the homefront for the fall of Metz. "The Metz area is by no means a key German position of the German west defenses, even if a breakthrough here would have serious consequences," he said.

Hallensleben said that there were "certain indications that both the air war and sea war will see new surprising developments this winter." He did not elaborate.

British Capture Italian Town

ROME, Nov. 16 (AP)—British Eighth Army forces have captured Petrignone, a village approximately two miles west of the Montone river below the Rimini-Bologna highway and six miles southeast of Faenza, Allied headquarters announced today.

The Eighth Army has pushed to the Montone on a wide front west of Forli and north of the strategic route on the southern border of the Po valley, announcement said.

The Florence-Forli road is entirely in Allied hands, and Polish troops have improved their positions farther west, a communique said.

Reds Report Keitel Escapes Assassin

NEW YORK, Nov. 16 (INS)—A report that an attempt was made to assassinate Nazi Field Marshal General Wilhelm Keitel during his recent visit to the Hungarian front was broadcast today by the Moscow radio.

$125,000 to Aid Vets

At a meeting with representatives of the Army, Navy, Marines and Coast Guard yesterday, the Boston Record-American and Sunday Advertiser set aside the sum of $125,000 for the welfare of wounded veterans in the Army and Navy hospitals in New England.

"DADDY, COME HOME"—Patricia Attaway, 7, of Aurora, Ill., waits patiently to hear that her father, CPO M. F. Attaway, who is somewhere in the Pacific, has been told of her illness, lymphatic leukemia, a rare blood disease which doctors claim is nearly always fatal, and will come home to see her soon. Meanwhile Red Cross workers continue their search for him in attempt to get the Navy father to her side before death claims the little girl.
Associated Press Wirephoto

Of this sum, $75,000 will be distributed in Christmas cash gifts.

The sum of $20,000 will be set aside for the following items:

Manual training and art equipment to help soldiers to readjust themselves to civilian life.

Furniture, games and other equipment for recreation rooms.

Various kinds of radio equipment for hospital wards.

Another sum will be used to permit returning, wounded veterans to put in telephone calls, no matter what the distance, to someone they know or love as soon after their arrival at Camp Edwards Debarkation Hospital and Chelsea Naval Hospital as may be convenient.

Special portable units will be installed in the hospital wards which may be wheeled to the bedside of a wounded veteran. He will be given a slip to sign designating to whom he wishes to telephone.

The slip will be used by the telephone company for placing the call anywhere in the United States and the bill will be presented to the Hospitalized Veterans' Fund of these newspapers.

These bills will be paid out of the fund at periodic intervals.

This fund is made possible by the generosity of our readers who contributed to the fund by attendance at various sporting and theatrical events during the year, and the co-operation of the promoters and managers and the officials directing these events sponsored by William Randolph Hearst's Boston newspapers.

At the meeting at which the decision was reached to make these uses of the fund there were present representing the services Capt. Garland Shell of the First Service Command, Lt. Com. M. S. Huppuch of the First Naval District and Lt. Leonard K. Johnson, chaplain of the Coast Guard in the First Naval District.

Doomed Boy, 3, Awaits Pre-Dated Christmas

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 16—To one small boy of three, the next two days stretch out into an eternity.

His most often-repeated query is,

"Is today Christmas?"

Because Forest ("Nubbins") Hoffman, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall H. Hoffman, dying with an incurable bladder disease, has been told that next Sunday is Christmas, he is living in a dream of anticipation of that glittering day.

Now wasted to only 22 pounds, he can sit up only in his good days, but his spirit is aflame with the promise that when he wakes up on his special Christmas morn he will find a wondrous tree shimmering with toys and beauty.

Neighbors who will share his Christmas party have been coached so "Nubbins" will never suspect it is not Christmas all over the land.

His remembrance of last Christmas is vague, but this very vagueness helps him to dream of the fairylike enchantment awaiting him.

Doctors warned his parents "Nubbins" would probably not see another Christmas.

Snow for N. E. But It's Rain Here

Wet sticky snow fell in scattered sections of New England but Greater Boston could count on continued rain until sometime tonight, according to the U. S. Weather Bureau.

Concord, N. H., reported moderate snow which began when the mercury hit the 33-degree mark. Snow was also reported falling in northern Vermont and remote parts of New Hampshire.

Felled by Car, 2 Badly Hurt

Struck by an auto as they crossed Commonwealth ave., at Kenmore sq., in the driving rain early today, Herman Goodwin, 45, of Chandler st., South End, and Miss Emma Haughn, 32, of Newbury st., Back Bay, were rushed to City Hospital, where Goodwin's condition is serious.

Admits 2 Nude Slasher Killings

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 16 (AP)—A husky, 31-year-old waiter was held incommunicado today after confessing, police said, one of the most brutal crimes on record—the mutilation slaying of two nude women in separate downtown hotels.

Drinking wine at a nearby bar, Otto Steve Wilson, recently medically discharged from the Navy, was handcuffed last night by an alert patrolman shortly after the suspect's description had been broadcast.

Lillian Johnson

The first victim was Virgie Lee Griffin, 25, wife of a truck driver. A hotel maid on routine cleaning rounds found her in a closet. A butcher knife lay nearby. Razor blades were scattered on the floor.

Detective Lt. Harry Hansen called it "the most fiendish crime in my 19 years of experience here. It is worse than the Winnie Ruth Judd case."

As the screaming hotel maid set off an intensive city-wide police search for the killer, the second victim was dying in another hotel a few blocks away.

She was Mrs. Lillian Johnson, 38, wife of a merchant seaman now in the South Pacific. She, too, had been brutally slashed.

Lt. McGarry said Wilson related that he hit her, then slashed her with a razor "for some reason—just pure cussedness, I guess."

Both the operator of the first hotel and a bellboy at the second had identified Wilson as the companion, first of Mrs. Griffin and later of Mrs. Johnson, in registering at the two hotels.

Wilson, a medically discharged Navy man, was booked on suspicion of murder. At first he sullenly maintained his innocence despite bloodstains on his hands and shoes. In his pocket, police said they found a razor. Removing his shirt they discovered scratches on his back as though made by a woman's fingernails in a frantic death struggle.

Gurgled to Court in Night Shirt

The impatience of some policemen, declared Frederick L. Parris, 28, of Rindge ave., Cambridge, as he arranged himself comfortably in his nightgown on the witness stand in East Cambridge court, is a startling thing.

And the laundry situation, he told Judge Green, is almost as bad, if indeed not worse.

Parris pulled his bathrobe more comfortably over his shine and pleaded guilty to making a gurgling noise on the night of Nov. 11 by holding a bottle directly over his lips and letting gravity take its course.

The next thing he knew, he explained, he was in Cambridge City Hospital, counting his contusions as the result of celebrating Armistice Day with the wrong companions.

Parris told the judge his clothes had been so mussed his mother had sent them to the cleaners but they had not been returned. And today, he said, the police insisted on "cleaning up the case," so they brought him in robe and dickey as the judge now saw him.

"They just persisted," he said.

Judge Green nodded sympathetically and placed the case on file.

As Parris left the courtroom his mother rushed in and whispered to him. He beamed delightedly. The cleaners had returned his clothes.

He changed in an anteroom and asked the police if they would kindly return the dickey and robe to the hospital, since he was not only healed, but garbed in his own precious duds.

Boom Brennan For Mayor

Friends of former Executive Councilor James H. Brennan of Jamaica Plain today opened an unofficial campaign to elect him Boston's mayor after he told them he "might" be a candidate to succeed Mayor Tobin.

Tobin must resign by Jan. 3 to accept the governorship and a special election will be held to choose the man who will fill the unexpired portion of Tobin's mayoralty term.

City Hall circles heard talk of Brennan, who was understood to have told friends he felt he could make a "substantial fight" for the office.

Brennan's supporters pointed to his 83,000 margin in Boston, over Atty. Gen. Bushnell in his unsuccessful bid for election as Attorney General in 1940.

Only two avowed candidates are in the field thus far. Rep. James M. Curley, who served three terms as Boston's mayor before becoming Governor, stated his intention to seek the office immediately after Tobin's election as Governor was assured.

The other positive candidate is School Committeeman Clement J. Norton of Hyde Park. Mentioned as possible opponents to these were former School Committee Chairman Henry Smith of Brighton and former School Committeeman Joseph Lee of Beacon Hill.

Meanwhile, Curley's supporters were "marking time" and said they had no plans to open campaign headquarters until sometime after the first of the year.

Cigs Cost GI's $2.50 in Paris

Out of the murk and fog beclouding whatever facts are responsible for the cigarette shortage came the disclosure today that American soldiers have to pay $2.50 a pack for them in the Paris black market, while front line troops, hitherto rationed five packs a week, were completely out of luck this week. They had none.

From the home front, meanwhile, came conflicting explanations, with the tobacco industry, government agencies and the smoke shop man at odds over the reason why a civilian with money in his pockets has to shop hard for his favorite brand—or any popular brand.

And why he is offered a profusion of come-lately brands that require just as much tobacco, just as much paper and just as much package material as "name" cigarettes.

Some facts emerged, but they still left unanswered the question: If American fighting men have to storm the ramparts of death without whatever solace a cigarette can give them, who is getting the cigarettes?

Run-of-the-mine civilians are hot because they frequently can't get them and hotter because they can't get the answer.

Tobacco manufacturers and distributors are authority for the statement that 400,000 pounds of tobacco are being exported annually to the United Nations.

In 1941, under peacetime conditions, the industry exported 171,970,000 pounds from January through September.

In 1936 exports totaled 173,300,000 pounds. In both years, with population approximately the same as it is now, America smoked its head off and supplied all the world that wanted its cigarettes.

This week American post exchanges in Paris had signs reading: "No cigarettes, cigars or tobacco of any kind until further notice."

The disappointed GI Joe then picked up a letter from home at mail call and learned his old man couldn't get any at the corner store either. But around the corner in Paris the GI could get a pack if he would lay $2.50 on the line for the black market operator. A soldier bent on a smoke and convinced he needs it isn't going to question the right or wrong of the matter if he must pay through the nose or go without.

At home the cigarette shortage was kicking up plenty of smoke.

The tobacco industry's trade

Day's Short Stories

Progress!

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 (AP)—After deliberation, the Office of Price Administration decided today hand-decorated used bottles are not vital to the cost of living.

So hand-decorated used bottles, along with some other odd items, including costume jewelry made from seeds, pods, nuts or other natural vegetable products, except wood were formally exempted from price control.

Boneless Cuts

NEW YORK, Nov. 16 (INS)—Boneless cuts of meat and chops are the postwar outlook as the result of the Army's development of space-saving boneless meats for troops abroad.

After the war a housewife will be able to buy a month's supply at one time and the meat, wrapped in special paper at the boning plant will be fresh and clean a month after it is put in the refrigerator.

What Happened?

The Yank newspaper, Stars and Stripes, reports the following from its agent with the Air Corps:

A colonel flying a transport plane was given the clear signal to land, and as the plane skimmed in, he looked back and remarked proudly, "smoothest landing I ever made!"

"But sir," protested a sergeant standing behind him, "you're still 15 feet in the air."

Woman Bids In Cut Plug at P.O. Auction

By ALICE BISSELL

"Who chews? Cut plug. Going up, going up, what am I bid?

"Sold to the lovely lady in the purple hat for two dollars!"

With this bombshell, the South Postal Annex public auction of thousands of unclaimed goods started off for a crowd of 2000—many of them there this year in a wild scramble for cigarettes and tobacco.

The lovely lady, Mrs. Thomas J. Connell of Webster st., Medford, marched up before a crowd of men who looked like tobacco-chewers and explained to Auctioneer Charles J. Benkert, assistant superintendent of mails, that the chew was for a neighbor who indulged.

But the cigarette shortage brought an extra crowd this year, willing to wait from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m. if necessary to bid on odd lots of cartons and flat 50's.

K. A. Sargian of Walden ave., North Saugus, won 50 packs for his bid of $8, and Mrs. Helen French of Forest st., Waltham, got five cartons for the same bid.

While postoffice authorities expected a reckless crowd, ready to bid away over the price of cigarettes, as they did in New York and Chicago, the people here today paid about what they would at any store.

Ten bidders out of 100 wanting cigarettes walked away with a total of about 600 packages plus 20 flat fifties.

Most of them came to the auction, they said, to get large quantities instead of the one allotted pack at shops, and they hoped to find popular brands.

One man pawed through the 100 packs he'd got for a bid of $17 and walked away in disgust.

"I took a day off from work because I miss my favorite brand so much, and in all of them there's not a smoke I've ever heard of," he said.

MOSCOW, Nov. 16 (AP)—The Soviet press hailed today's 11th anniversary of the establishment of diplomatic relations between the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics and the United States of America as the most important date "in the history of relations between the two greatest democratic countries in the world."

Izvestia declared the effectiveness of the co-operation between the nations is "brightly expressed" in the struggle of their freedom loving peoples with the enemy.

Truck Srrikers' Parley Delayed by Wrangling

Truck transportation throughout the city was at a standstill today as more than 5000 members of Local 25, International Brotherhood of Teamsters and Chauffeurs gathered at the South End Municipal building for a mass meeting which union officials hoped would end the three-day truckmen's "holiday."

Only a trickle of necessary food moved during the morning from the huge Boston Market Terminal in South Boston with drivers of other locals transporting perishables. Movement of vital war material throughout the city and from Boston to other states also was virtually at a standstill.

BULLETIN

The mass meeting of Boston truckmen began at 11:30 a. m. today at the South End municipal building with an estimated 1000 of the drivers on "holiday" barred from the packed auditorium by police because of safety regulations. The press was not admitted.

The scheduled 10 a. m. start of the mass meeting was delayed for hours as union officials insisted on individual examination of credentials of the union members before permitting them to enter the building.

The waiting throng took the delay good-naturedly, although they gave evidence of becoming unruly when union officials barred a driver who later identified himself as Patsy Pocaro, one of 14 drivers ordered suspended from the union by officials Tuesday night.

Extra details of police on hand to maintain order quickly quieted the men down.

Pocaro, a discharged veteran of the present war, charged he had been barred from the meeting because he was "not afraid" to accuse his union's leaders of unconstitutional action in refusing to permit an election of officers.

John M. Sullivan, union local president, and P. Harry Jennings, New England organizer and international representative, called the mass meeting with the announced intention of ending the "holiday."

Sullivan declared before the meeting that members failing to agree to action taken at the mass meeting would be outlawed from the union.

Federal conciliators said the National War Labor Board would issue a back-to-work order if the meeting failed to end the walkout.

Frank P. Halloran, union business agent, said the gathering would be informed that the walkout was a wildcat strike, unsanctioned by the union and a violation of the "no-strike" pledge.

As the drivers filed slowly into the building, owners of hundreds of stores throughout Greater Boston were trying frantically to replenish stocks of vegetables and fruits.

The meeting was called by union heads after suspension of 14 alleged ringleaders had failed to bring the drivers' holiday to an end.

Joseph E. Rego, of Cambridge, one of those ordered suspended, said:

"I am a discharged disabled war veteran, having served three years and eight months in the Army. I have served 26 months in the South Pacific and have the honor to wear the Presidential Citation. I expected the things we were fighting for, namely the rights of freedom, democracy, the right to vote and elect who I saw fit, still prevailed.

"Now, I find that the officers of my local union deny me the right to elect by ballot those I want to represent me.

Testimony Begins At Trial of Wilson

An edict barring prospective witnesses from the courtroom was issued today by Judge Nelson P. Brown as testimony opened in the trial of John L. "Limey" Wilson, 28, and Francis J. Murray, 29, on charges of murder, in Suffolk Superior Court.

Judge Brown, following a conference with Asst. Dist. Atty. Francis J. Hickey and defense counsel, announced.

"If any witness remains in the courtroom before he or she is called to testify, that witness will not be permitted to take the stand."

Wilson and Murray are charged with slaying Mrs. Catherine McGinley, 84, Charlestown, in an attempt to get her $18,000 life savings.

The first witness, Mrs. Marie G. Sullivan, Ferrin st., Charlestown, variety store owner, said she knew the victim well.

"She was in my store the afternoon before she was killed," Mrs. Sullivan testified. "She looked to be in the best of spirits."

She testified Wilson and Murray "moved" cars for her husband in his parking lots in the spring of 1943.

Hickey, in his opening statement, said he planned to call 47 witnesses.

After bringing out that at the time of her death, Mrs. McGinley had $18,000 in banks, savings accumulated by herself and her late husband, despite the fact they brought up five children, Hickey told how her son, John, a Navy Yard worker, living in South Boston, discovered his mother's mutilated body.

Hickey said Dr. William Brickley, medical examiner, would tell the jurors how he found 23 separate fractures in the woman's skull, four or five incised stab wounds and many contusions. "He will tell you," said the prosecutor, "how he found the chest crushed, with 12 broken ribs, and of the skull being crushed. He will also tell you of the burned parts of the body."

The medical examiner, according to Hickey, will also testify to unprintable tortures and brutality committed on the aged victim, in an attempt to drag from her the secret of where her money was kept.

Pet Dog Guards Dead Hunter

SIDNEY, Me. Nov. 16—With his pet dog guarding him, the body of Albert Thibodeau was found in the woods today.

Thibodeau, 47 year-old coon hunter, was found dead-apparently a victim of heart disease—following a search of three days by a posse following his disappearance.

The body of the former chief forest warden in the Chamberlain Lake district was located a short distance from Quaker Hill section where his truck was found yesterday by searchers.

MUST JOIN NAZI PARTY

NEW YORK, Nov. 16 (INS)—Membership in the Nazi party has been made compulsory for all members of the German armed forces, the German Transocean agency announced.

MRS. MARY SWANSON, JOHN, 3; ANNE, 4, OF DORCHESTER
Children Parade in Play Suits from Daddy's Uniform

Proudly They Wear Navy Dad's Made-Over Discarded Uniforms

A loving Navy wife knows how to turn the lonely hours into ones of industry and happiness for her children, and how to help the family budget while her husband is far away.

AMM 1-c Henry Lawrence Swanson, 27, of Plain st., Dorchester, has been serving in South America for one and a half years.

When he left home, his wife, Mary, 23, put his two discarded Navy uniforms in mothballs along with his favorite Scotch plaid lumberman's shirt.

When he wrote home that the hard life and dangerous missions had made him lose so much weight that he wouldn't be able to use his old clothes for a long time, even if he did get home, Mary might have started to worry.

Instead she took up her needle and thread on the lonely evenings and made his Navy uniforms into snow suits for little John, 3, and Anne, 4.

She cut up the plaid shirt for gay pockets and buttons, and lined the outfits with old baby blankets.

Of course the kids are the proudest on the street.

"Dad is over there. But I wear his snow suit," says John.

"Daddy's all around me snug and warm, 'cause I'm all warm in his suit, and my Dad's a Navy man," says Anne.

Pope Hits Nazis

By the Associated Press

Pope Pius XII denounced the Nazis for their brutal subjugation of Warsaw, the British radio reported.

The Pope was quoted as stating "whoever feels the smallest spark of humanity and justice cannot help but be astounded and appalled" by the Germans' conduct in the Polish capital. He added that Warsaw's citizens had suffered "indescribable physical and moral hardships."

F. D. Note to Council Praises N.E. War Aid

President Roosevelt today praised New England's contributions to the war as "an impressive page in the history of our era" in a special message to the third war conference of the New England Council in Hotel Statler.

The President's tribute was made public as governors of the six New England states, ranking military and naval officers and more than 1200 New England business executives gathered to consider problems of war and peace.

Frederick Steele Blackall, Jr., Rhode Island manufacturer and banker, was elected president to succeed Edward E. Chase of Portland, Me.

The message from President Roosevelt read in part:

"The contributions of New England to the winning of the war, on the home front as on the fighting fronts, will make an impressive page in the history of our era.

"The farsightedness of New Englanders, expressed through cohesive organizations like the New England Council, gives promise of continued growth and expansion in all fields of human enterprise after the war."

Among the speakers scheduled to address the conference are Gov. Saltonstall and OPA Administrator Chester Bowles.

Council officers re-elected: Dudley Harmon, executive vice-president, Wellesley Hills; E. C. Johnson, treasurer, Boston; Francis S. Murphy, secretary, general manager of Hartford, Ct., Times.

ROBES AND HOUSECOATS

THIRD FLOOR—MAIN STORE

One of the rewards of running a classy haberdashery, and you must admit we're classy, is that one ipso facto inherits as it were the very best gangster trade. The rod and gun fraternity are very fussy about where they spend their money in direct contrast, of course, to their complete indifference as to where they get it. We have quite a nice following of the "boys" though it was quite some time before I knew how to spot them, and who they were. You see, I had the Hollywood notion that the racketeer of today was a dese and dose guy who always affected an outlandish leer and dressed to match. How wrong I was. All my sublegal clients are quiet, well mannered, and nicely dressed although in general their taste in clothes is a bit narrow. Almost all of them dress like retired bankers (perhaps this is an unfortunate comparison, cross it out), and their constant question when shown something new to wear is, "Are you sure it's conservative?" Perhaps this explains my personal penchant for hilarious clothes—I want most awfully to be identified with the proper people.

But once in a while things happen in our shop, and sometimes in the Hollywood mood. Some years ago, for example, one of our most fastidious gunmen came in and as usual was accompanied by a bodyguard, in this case a hulking Litvac with the physical proportions and probably the spirit of a Great Dane. Tiring of standing while his boss was buying, he slumped into a nearby chair and in so doing two revolvers fell out of his back pockets and plopped on the floor. My client turned livid, slapped his pal right in the teeth and then proceeded to give him a tongue lashing like no sailor ever gave his mother-in-law. Daniel never said a word and this gave me great encouragement because right then and there I knew I was destined for greater things. What better proof needed I that the meek shall inherit the earth.

Nazis Lack Spirit To Stage Revolt

By RICHARD TREGASKIS
(Recently Returned from the Battlefields of France and Germany)

NEW YORK, Nov. 16 (INS)—One of the most electrifying bits of news from inside Germany in recent weeks is the report of rioting between Nazis and anti-Nazis in Rhineland cities.

But like other hopeful reports of internal dissension in Germany, this one has to be taken with a large grain of doubt.

Past experience in the captured parts of Germany has taught us that the Nazis are capable of exercising an iron control over the subservient masses; not that the police system of Germany is so efficient—simply that it is ruthless, and the people lack backbone.

The Nazis have been able to evacuate more than half of the populations of towns and cities which we've overrun. There were originally 161,000 people in Aachen. When we captured the town, there were less than 25,000.

In Kornelimunster, the first town to be occupied by our forces in Germany, there were 800 left of a population of about 3000.

Everywhere, the Storm Troopers rounded up the population, with threats if necessary, and persuaded them to move on farther into Germany, before the Americans arrived.

The Germans who wanted to stay behind and wait for us—and many of them had to hide in their cellars to achieve this—told us:

They were so tired of war that they didn't care who won, as long as the misery was ended.

Those with whom I talked said that the Nazis had exerted considerable pressure to force them to leave their homes—but, they said, they weren't so crazy as to want to leave the towns which had supplied their bread and butter for generations.

The general Nazi directive had called for a scorched earth policy, including destruction of mines and factories, but the people remaining behind to wait for us refused to blow up their means of livelihood.

This was a passive sort of resistance, however, and it was typical. Most of the people who did stay behind in the Rhineland were broken in spirit. While they professed hatred for the Nazis in many cases, they did nothing to aid the cause of the Allies; nothing like the Belgians or the French.

Many of these Germans contended that they wanted a democracy set up in the Rhineland, but none, as far as the record shows were willing to risk death to help establish such a government.

I once asked a captured Nazi major general how he could countenance the cold-blooded murder of 23 men, women and children in a French town where the civilians had helped the Allies.

Some Storm Troopers had returned to the town after the Allies had passed through; the Germans, angry at the help given American troops, had rounded up a group of mixed civilians and shot them on the spot.

The general said calmly, "I had no knowledge of this, but if that was the case, then it was legal. The death penalty is prescribed for all terrorists."

That is the kind of authoritarian government which is a habit of life with the Germans.

Rally Speeds War Fund Drive

Inspired by the success of the Red Feather Rally at Boston Garden where top-flight stars of stage, screen and radio entertained a capacity audience of 14,000, volunteer workers of the Greater Boston United War Fund today renewed their effort to attain the $7,650,000 goal by Thanksgiving eve.

Complete tabulation of reports from all the money-raising divisions at the sixth Dutch-treat luncheon at the Boston City Club this noon were expected to swell the fund total to within striking distance of the quota. The total had passed the $5,204,000 mark before the luncheon reports were tallied.

Mrs. Maurice T. Moore, of New York city, chairman of the national USO council, was principal speaker at today's report gathering.

Urge Appeal Board For State Employes

Establishment of a five-man appeal board to hear the grievances of state employes was recommended today by a special legislative commission

In a detailed report, pointing out that half of the commonwealth's 19,000 workers have no right of appeal because they are not under civil service, the commission said creation of an appeal board would be "frankly experimental."

"So far as we have been able to determine, no legislation of this kind has been enacted by any state," the report declared.

"One of the most difficult problems is the definition of the board's jurisdiction. Salaries and wages are governed by appropriations, and, in some cases, also by statute. Pensions are granted by legislation. On Civil Service matters the jurisdiction of the Civil Service Commission should not be overridden."

Principal function of the proposed board, the report stated, would be to settle promptly grievances arising from interpretation and application of rules and regulations affecting individuals or groups of employes.

Hub Appeal for Nurses' Aides

Urgently appealing for nurses' aides, the Boston Red Cross announced today that, despite the acute need for volunteer daytime help in Boston civilian hospitals, plans for training courses may have to be abandoned unless more recruits respond.

Training courses for nurses' aides are scheduled to start Nov. 27 at Children's Hospital, Boston City Hospital and the New England Hospital for Women and Children, but Mrs. Frank G. Allen, chairman of the Nurses' Aide Corps, said so far an insufficient number has responded.

The enrollment period has been extended to Nov. 24.

Refused Prison, He'll Try Life Again

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 16 (AP) —Frank R. Bortner, 60, recently paroled after serving 20 years in Auburn Prison for killing his wife, decided he might be able to adjust himself to civilian life.

Bortner made an unsuccessful attempt to re-enter prison Monday, declaring he wants to "shut the door and forget the world." On his return to Buffalo, however, he was detained on a parole violation warrant alleging he is "a risk to his own safety." He then decided to have another try at freedom.

Veterans' Friend

By JAMES F. McENANEY

Q—I served in the Marines for about six months and was given a "Bad Conduct Discharge." I have read in your column that servicemen who received a similar type of discharge are entitled to certain benefits. Do I receive mustering-out pay, discharge button or "G. I." benefits? I have tried to re-enter the services, but have failed. I have not and will not give up hope yet. "TIMSON," Boston.

A—Your Bad Conduct discharge bars you from receiving mustering-out pay, also honorable discharge button. However, the benefits of the "G. I." bill are available to you. Regarding re-entering services, that is a problem you will have to iron out yourself by attempting to convince enlistment officers that if given another chance you will prove yourself worthy and make a good soldier.

Q—I have a son in the Navy and he is married and father of three children. His wife receives a monthly allotment of $120. Last month she came to my house and left two of the children to board here, that's the last I've heard from her. What can be done about having their allotment sent me instead? I will have to write to my son and inform him of the situation. Before I do this, however, I would appreciate your advice.

M. K., Roxbury.

A—If it is your daughter-in-law's intention to have you care for the two children, you are entitled to an allotment. I suggest you write your son and inform him of the conditions and have him assign an allotment to you for the two children. You might also ask the Red Cross to help you get the allotment and explain situation to them who in turn would make a report on the matter to the Office of Dependency and Benefits.

Q—I'm divorced from my husband and received $42 for our child until last August, then my check was for $6.00 and the last two months it has been for $30. Why has it been reduced like this and how can I be sure of what I'm to receive each month.

N.D., Taunton.

A—Apparently the soldier has remarried. When Family Allowance is paid only for one child—no wife—the amount is $42; when a wife is added, the child is entitled to $30, $24 was withheld for two months in which you were entitled to $30., $24. was withheld from the check you received in August to adjust the overpayment made to you. Your checks should now be for $30.

Questions submitted to Veterans' Friend Editor, Boston Evening American, 5 Winthrop Sq., Boston 6, Mass., will be answered in this daily column.

publication, Tobacco Magazine, saddled OPA with the blame. Its editor, R. R. Thompson, said:

"OPA has frozen cigarette prices all along the line. As a result, the manufacturers can't pay labor the price it is getting in other industries considered essential.

"If prices were lifted all along the line from the grower on up—about two or three cents a pack—I think a great deal of the problem would be solved. Labor could be hired and distribution moved into rapid action."

Yet total cigarette production for civilian use will hit 246,000,000,000 smokes this year, an astronomical high.

The figure was supplied by H. B. Patrey, assistant executive secretary of the National Ass'n of Tobacco Distributors, New York. He didn't see eye to eye with the trade publication editor on the prime reason for the shortage.

Patrey declared: "The rumor that manufacturers are holding out for price increases is completely wrong. They do face a scarcity of labor and other shortages, but the shortage can't be blamed on their refusal to release the supply.

"The consumer has himself to blame for part of the famine. He will offer to pay way above ceiling to get his favorite brand and this helps create a black market. Hoarding, instead of day-to-day buying, is also an important factor."

Patrey said this year's crop will be a "heavy one, about 1,700,000,000 pounds, but it can't be used for a year to 18 months."

In Washington, Sen. Overton of Louisiana said he "had it in mind to investigate if the retail supply situation gets worse."

Spokesmen for the tobacco industry thought it would get worse

In Chicago a Southern senator asked a taxi driver where he could get a pack of cigarettes. The driver pulled a pack from his glove compartment and offered to sell it for 50 cents. The senator said he burned at the idea. He told his Washington collegues he refused to have any part of the deal.

In Boston a move toward voluntary rationing of cigarettes was made by one distributor. Barnet Nemrow, president of Nemrow Brothers, Inc., announced adoption of a "ration card" system for retailers. He explained it was designed to prevent favoritism in sales by jobbers' clerks to "certain preferred retailers."

The First Service Command here stated that at installations like Ft. Devens and Camp Edwards the post exchanges limited soldiers to two packs of cigarettes per days, prisoners of war and civilians to one.

At one prisoner-of-war camp in New Hampshire the soldiers and prisoners get the same limit—one pack per day.

The First Naval District disclosed the limit at the Charlestown Navy Yard was two packs a day. Officers, it was reported, might be able to do a little better at the Officers' Club.

The War Food Administration announced in Washington it would permit farmers to plant three per cent more tobacco for flue-curing purposes next year and two per cent more of the burley variety, principal types used in cigarettes.

Which may improve things a year hence, according to doleful smoke shop proprietors who are selling brands they never heard of to customers who don't want them but prefer them to nothing.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR

She's as Lively as a Youngster—Now her Backache is better

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Bring Our Boys Home PROMPTLY

THE TRUTH

THE BRITISH PRESS has reported with intense interest and some trepidation that a recent government mission in the United States, representing the British textile trade, has returned with proof that American textile industries have developed superior production methods that have postwar significance.

The British mill, according to this report, gets from 31 to 84 per cent less production from a working staff in the vital textile processes of spinning, winding and weaving than an American mill gets from an equivalent staff.

"For any given output considerably greater labor forces are required in the British mills," says the report, and "there was no evidence of overloading the operatives in American mills."

The effect of this report has been to arouse "feelings of great concern" in Great Britain, as can well be imagined.

WITHOUT smugness, Americans can read this report with entirely opposite feelings.

The skill and integrity of the American textile worker have been given an obvious and well-deserved recognition by this British report that merits emphasis at home.

And it is not only the American textile worker that has such skill and integrity. American industrial labor as a whole is consistently more enterprising, resourceful and productive than its competitors in foreign industry.

American labor in all industries produces more goods than its foreign counterpart. It produces better goods. It works under better conditions. It is better paid.

All of these facts are recited and acknowledged by the British textile mission, not for purposes of flattery to American labor we may be sure, but for the purpose of inciting British labor to emulation.

Neither British envy nor American pride are factors in this situation.

The important thing is that a competent and realistic British trade mission has turned the international spotlight upon an element in our national life that is our greatest asset.

That vital element is the amazing KNOW HOW of the American industrial worker.

He gives superior production because he is a SUPERIOR WORKMAN.

THIS INDEED has postwar significance, as the British observers acknowledged. And it certainly had tremendous wartime significance.

It has made the American in combat the best fighting man in the world.

It is WINNING THE WAR, without any question in our minds—and with little remaining question in the minds of our enemies.

After the war, it will pay even richer dividends in terms of American prosperity and happiness.

The asset of superior national PRODUCTIVENESS is not necessarily our exclusive possession, but it is a priceless possession. And as the observing British have reported, it is not something we derive from machines or goods but something that springs from the hands and spirit of a resourceful people enjoying a free and fruitful way of life.

Emulation of our free and productive way of life is the challenge to the British in this significant report, and we may wish them well in it.

But recognition and appreciation of our own way of life, and preservation of the freedom and enterprise and opportunity that sustain it, are the essential things that constitute our AMERICAN obligation and challenge.

When the hour had come I must leave thy home,
Saw I nothing of the charm of May:
Knowing this alone, that all joy was gone
When from thee I must away.
Now I come again, mid the winter rain,
Feeling nothing of its bitter sting;
For each sound I hear says the hour is near
Which to thee my steps shall bring. —OSTERWALD.

"THE FEMININE brain is clever and resourceful. The greater the cleverness the less it is suspected," observed Howard D. Stewart. That is from our Horses & Women File No. 1789D. Keep it in mind, young fellow! Be on your guard when in the company of a blonde you think is dizzy and dumb. She is probably a lot smarter than you are . . . It has been claimed hay fever is hereditary. One man of science went so far as to say people with hay fever should not marry as it is a terrible ailment to pass on to a child. That sounds like the bunk to me. I believe the day is not far off when hay fever will be 100 per cent curable.

ASIDES: Irish whisky. Seventeen years old. Distilled by a Dublin organization established in 1767. Five dollars and 41 cents for four-fifth of a quart. That's what I saw displayed while out window shopping today. Sounds like a bargain if you like Irish whisky . . . Those places retailing hamburgers are always packed. Maybe I won't give up my idea of opening a hamburger emporium as a side issue. I have been picking up some good ideas as to this activity. I see one hamburger place also has a "salad bowl" listed on the menu. The ladies always like to have a bit of salad on the side. They have something there. Eating plenty of raw vegetables is good for the complexion and keeps a person looking young.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—Is Jeanette MacDonald Scotch or Irish. A—Jeanette was born in Philadelphia but I believe she is of Irish descent. She has an Irish sense of humor. Q—Where did you get the idea that Roger Bresnahan originated shin guards for baseball catchers? A—He is generally credited with this. If he isn't the originator, who is? Q—Settle an argument between a G. I. Joe and a member of the British Merchant Marine. Which is the larger city, London or New York. A—London is now the largest city in the world. New York is second. Especially if it is a flannel nightshirt.

WASHINGTON SCENE

By GEORGE DIXON

Distributed by King Features Synd., Inc. Reproduction prohibited.

WACO, TEX., Nov. 16—If anybody wishes to know why I am in Waco, Tex., instead of Washington, D. C., it is because of a very stout fat man named Mr. Bill Mason. How it came about was thus:

I was in the National Press Club, wondering whether to come out against a fifth term or get a Swedish massage, when Mr. Mason waddled in. He asked me what was doing and I told him I thought Dewey would carry New York.

"The election is over," said Mr. Mason. "You had better snap out of that trance. What you need is a change of atmosphere."

"Maybe you're right," I agreed. "It is pretty stuffy in here, present company excepted."

"I mean a complete change," said Mr. Mason. "You need to get away from Washington for a while. You are losing your perspective."

"Where?" I gasped. "Does it show?"

"Never mind that," snapped Mr. Mason. "There are things going on in this country that you ought to know about. Do you—for instance—have any idea what is going on in Texas?"

"Certainly," I said. "They are trying to get electors who will throw their votes against Roosevelt. It is a very involved conspiracy and as tricky as all get-out."

"Nuts!" said Mr. Mason. "That stuff is all over. Get yourself up to date. The big thing that is happening down there is the Texas-in-the-War Celebration."

"You mean Texas has declared war?" I exclaimed. "Which side?"

"It is one of our allies—just like Brooklyn," said Mr. Mason. "Oh, stop the nonsense—or you'll have me as wacky as you!"

"What I mean," he continued, is that Texas is doing great things in the war. It is supplying vast quantities of food and is also becoming industrialized. It is taking a big role in the new industrialization of the South. So Gov. Coke R. Stevenson has arranged a large tour and celebration."

So I permitted Mr. Mason to shove me aboard a plane.

ANYWAY, we arrived at Dallas. Love Field, at Dallas, is one of the most active air pastures in the country.

It is municipally-owned. Mr. George Haddaway, president of the Aviation Writers' Association, gave me some interesting figures.

This may sound incredible, but one of the biggest airlines operating into there, paid only $1858 in landing fees to the city last year. On the other hand, those things where you put five cents into a slot and turn the knob returned nearly $2000!

I thought you would like to know about that. It opens such a wide field for speculation and conjecture.

WE WENT to a luncheon at which Mayor J. Woodall Rodgers said he was glad to have us in Dallas. When he said it was a privilege to have such distinguished visitors I started to take a bow, but Mr. Mason grabbed me by the coat tail.

"He doesn't mean you!" he hissed. "The man isn't crazy!"

★ ★ ★

WE WENT to a football game between Southern Methodist University and Texas A. & M. Neither Mr. Mason nor I endeared ourselves to the spectators in our vicinity because he kept saying he was rooting for "Smoo" and I kept calling my team "A. & P."

★ ★ ★

WE FLEW from Dallas to Waco. On arrival we were met by Mr. Bill O'Neil, president of the General Tire & Rubber Co., of Akron, O., which is opening a big new plant in Waco.

"I have astounding intelligence to impart," said Mr. O'Neil. "Back in July, I inadvertently let slip that newspapermen were coming here. Two days later they voted the town dry!"

It seems they have a thing called local option here. I hope it is not catching.

THE WACO Chamber of Commerce tendered us a breakfast.

We were informed that Waco is called the "Hub of Texas"; that it has 150 manufacturing plants, employing 10,000 and keeps eight motor trucks and four railway lines humming. Also, that it has two large Army air schools, a bomb loading plant and a tank destroyer training center (Camp Hood).

WE ARE LEAVING now for Temple, Tex., where the tour will be held.

Hollywood . . . .

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 16—David Selznick has bought "Duel in the Sun" from RKO, lock, stock and barrel, for Jennifer Jones' next starring picture—even before she goes to 20th for "Cluny Brown."

Seldom has there been a more outright purchase of a property. Selznick not only gets Niven Busch's novel, but he also acquires the complete screeen play written by Oliver H. P. Garrett, with Garrett himself tossed in. Picture rolls Jan. 15 in Technicolor.

Jennifer Jones

"Duel in the Sun" was was first rumored for Veronca Lake when RKO had it. Two girls couldn't be more unlike in type than Ronnie and Jenifer. But since the heroine is part Indian and the setting the 1880 days in Texas, Jennifer seems more the type. Certainly David O. is varying her roles. (Maybe to show the meanes who said she was a "one role" actress after "Bernardette?") Jennifer has run the gamut from a saint in "Bernardette" through a debutante in "Since You Went Away," to an Indian in "Duel in the Sun"—then on to a servant girl in "Cluny Brown."

THE TOP best-seller on the non-fiction list, "Anna and the King of Siam," goes to 20th Century-Fox for a hefty figure. At the rate 20th is acquiring popular books, this studio is fast becoming the home of the best-seller. "Anna and the King of Siam" is the story of a woman who goes to Siam in 1890 to be governess to the son of the king—and there is no star yet set for the leading feminine role.

ONE THING about the gang over at Paramount—they're honest, even if it hurts. When asked if the new Veronica Lake-Eddie Bracken movie, "Good Intentions," was really a remodeled script on "My Favorite Brunette," they admitted "yes—with reservations." There was almost a complete rewrite job on the script of "My Favorite Brunette" after Bob Hope suspended Paramount and Paulette Goddard moved into another film. The new script came out as a perfectly tailored job for Veronica and Eddie—so they were switched into it under the new title, "Good Intentions."

Several dresses, already completed, are so chic that many women, not expecting little strangers, may follow the new Lamarr mode. Incidentally, the glamorous mother-to-be will live in her dressing room on the lot during the entire making of the picture with hubby, John Loder, showing up every night for dinner.

Broadway . . . .

By Dorothy Kilgallen

NEW YORK, Nov. 16—In one small respect, a Gl in Guinea is luckier than a Broadwayite lolling in a corner room at the Astor Hotel—luckier, for that matter than any of the folks back home. The small respect is this: he can hear the Army show, "Command Performance."

Bette Davis

It has no singing commercials, no comedy commercials, no patronizingly intoned commercials, and it stars entertainers who were never before grouped together around one microphone anytime or anyplace. They are the greatest radio shows I have ever heard, and it is no wonder they pull more soldier mail than Hedy Lamarr.

YOU GET a small idea of what they are like when I tell you that one of my favorite shows starred—all on one platter—Bette Davis, Artie Shaw, Jimmy Durante and Jose Iturbi. Another tossed in the talents of Judy Garland, Bob Hope, Bing Crosby and Frank Sinatra. All these performers did things for benefit of the GI's that they have never done for any sponsor.

Bette Davis, for instance, told jokes. She said to the boys, a la Bob Hope: "I saw a P-38 at San Diego the other day. You know what a P-38 is—that's Crosby's stork with two tails." Then she added: "You know Crosby. He's the pumped-up Sinatra."

As m. c. of her patricular platter, she traded gags with Jimmy Durante and acted as his "straight man." She addressed him, in the most elegant tones, as "Mr. Durahntay." When she delivered a few lines from Shakespeare, Jimmy said in admiration: "What class! Miss Davis, you are indeed a cultured tomato."

★ ★ ★

THEY DISCUSSED Oscar Wilde's writing. "Weren't you crazy about Lady Windermere's Fan?"

"Yeah," replied Durante, "but I like her new act better. She's using a bubble now."

At a point in the script, Durante asked Miss Davis if she would attend his garden party.

"Delighted," she said. "Shall I dress?"

Durante permitted himself a pause. "Naturally. We don't want the cops."

With considerable side, he said: "You know Barbara Hutton, of course."

"Yes," said Bette. "Will she be there?"

"No," said Durante, "but there'll be several girls from her store."

He told the Academy Award winner that he was looking for talent for his party, and added: "I thought I'd come around and sniff a little."

"Well," observed Bette, "you have the equipment for it!"

When Bette got a big laugh from the audience—the show is played before as many soldiers and sailors as can be packed into the studio—Jimmy ad libbed: "I didn't know that was a joke, or you wouldn't have had it, Miss Davis."

"—And there I was with no make-up on! Imagine how I felt!"

Beauty — It's Tops in Foundations — Fashion

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

A PRETTY GIRL may be like a melody . . . but it is a beautifying foundation which makes the gal pretty . . . a liquid make-up that protects the skin as it dramatizes the complexion . . . an easy-to-spread liquid make-up that gives warmth and vibrancy to any face however drab and dull. Janis Carter has an enviable and glamorous face.

TRUST THE GLAMOUR GALS to know how to put across that certain-something appeal. Call it distinction, if you will . . . but certainly it is a feminine facial quality which most women try to achieve. It isn't always the clothes these photogenic lovelies wear . . . though goodness knows they CAN wear clothes . . . but it's the expression of confident poise in their appealing and intriguing faces.

Of course, you say, you go through your routine, use this and that cosmetic . . . and still the mirror belies the glamour you see in the gals who are the cynosure of all eyes. If you're that unfortunate, sister you don't understand your face. Perhaps your coloring is off-shade . . . perhaps your make-up is too pronounced . . . perhaps the eye area is weary-looking.

But one of the most important perhaps to every woman is the right kind of foundation which glamorizes the skin as it smooths the complexion . . . as it whisks over the facial expanse in velvet-like evenness toning the skin in color warmth. The Hollywood gals use this liquid foundation almost exclusively. As a matter of fact, it was compounded especially for their use.

GLAMORIZES THE COMPLEXION

Today, foundations have swept the nation and many a gal's face would be dull and drab if it weren't for the magic of such a liquid foundation as this. It protects the skin as it beautifies it. It glamorizes the complexion and smoothed to perfection with a special blend powder it makes radiant and glowing even the most ordinary face.

We can't be too lavish in our praise of this liquid foundation for it is one of our favorites. It has a spreading consistency that makes its application so easy to handle. It doesn't dry in spots on your face before you get a chance to whisk it over the entire countenance. Rather it waits for the fingers to blend it into the skin as slowly or rapidly as the user desires. We like a dark make-up and copper is our shade . . . although it comes in other varied hues.

For the name of this choice foundation, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBerty 4000, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

CAPES ARE IN this season for an extension of the feminine silhouette. The majestic sweep of line in this cascading, tuxedo romance-cape of Alaska sealskin . . . with saddle shoulders . . . and voluptuous fullness is a honey of possession for any fur-minded woman. Its young, beguiling design and the favored new three-quarter length make it high style.—R. M.

Says Fiance Too Short

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:
I'm in love with a young man of my faith. We are the same age, but my mother doesn't like him because he is of a different nationality. He's in love with me too. Mother says he's too short for me and that it would spoil the looks of the wedding. I'm very tall for a girl, and he's only a few inches shorter. Please tell me what to do. DOT A.

Of the many reasons advanced for turning down a prospective son-in-law, this is the first time I've ever heard of disparity of inches brought forward as a hindrance.

Why not do as Consuelo Vanderbilt did at her first marriage? She wore flat heeled shoes and the Duke of Marlborough had a few rounds added to his heels. As for the man of your choice being of a different nationality, it depends on the man rather than the country from which his ancestors came, whether the marriage will turn out well or not.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:
The medical examiner at my draft board rejected me for the Army, giving a good and sufficient reason. But I haven't the courage to tell my girl friend about it, and she's beginning to wonder why I don't go into the service. I'm past 19, and we had talked of getting married after the war, which meets with the approval of both our parents.

My fiance may lose faith in me if I tell her. At least, I'm sure she won't be as nice as she has been. What excuse shall I give? BOB.

Why not tell your girl the truth? It would be highly dishonorable to lie about the matter and give the girl a wrong excuse for being rejected. Tell her all about it, and then let her make the next move. You'll have to take it "on the chin," the same as if you were facing the enemy. If she really loves you and you are curable, she may agree to marry you.

My Day

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, WEDNESDAY—When shopping in New York, the other day, I went in to America House, where I saw Mrs. Vanderbilt Webb. She told me of a very interesting plan being developed by Dartmouth College in co-operation with the American Craftsmen's Educational Council, Inc., of 485 Madison Avenue, N. Y. C. They are working out with the Veterans' Administration a way in which veterans wishing to take advantage of this plan may do so.

The plan is designed to give men and women training in careers as craftsmen. Every step is pointed to one end, the financial independence of the individual, either through self-employment or employment in the manual industries.

MY MAIL recently brought a letter from a mother who lives in Maine, inclosing a poem which she says she "just found."

Since it has been a consolation to her, she felt that many other mothers working in war industries, as she is doing, would like to know it. When their load of anxiety seems almost more than they can carry, it may bring them strength and consolation:

And so I quote it here, hoping that her wish may come true:

"Dear Lord,—
You gave Your son to save the world.
You didn't count the cost
In blood and sacrifice;
You gave Your son that we might live.
Can I do less?
I give the world my son
That he may help to save
The things for which Your son
So nobly died.
If, when the victory's won,
You send back my son,
I'll press him to my breast and thank you, Lord.
And if he goes to join Your son,
I'll understand;
And through my tears rejoice
To know that my son and the Son of God
Go hand in hand.—Amen."

Write a Note

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:
Please inform me how to respond to a note of betrothal of a girl acquaintance in another city. Should a gift be sent, or a letter, or just let it pass? G. W.

Since this girl is only an acquaintance of yours, it is not at all necessary for you to send an engagement gift. Engagement gifts aren't customarily given, except perhaps by relatives or very close friends.

But I do think that, if I were you, I wouldn't just let this news "pass" without some kind of acknowledgment from you. Write her a warm-hearted note, thanking her for sending you her news, telling her of your happiness in her happiness, wishing her "all good wishes," and asking her to convey your congratulations to her fiance.

Puddings All Like

By MARTHA LEE

IT ISN'T too early to take stock of your larder and see what is needed to prepare your holiday puddings. Perhaps this year you'll find it difficult to make your favorite plum pudding—due to various food shortages. But don't let that stop your efforts in the direction of puddings. There are many delectable combinations that make ideal holiday desserts.

This mincemeat pudding, for instance, served with delicious sauce is fit for any festive table. The ingredients are simple and easily available and it is a recipe on which we have had many requests for "repeats". Perhaps you have noticed that mincemeat is once again plentiful on your grocer's shelf after some months of what seemed to be a real shortage. We always suggest that this pudding be served with a wine or rum sauce because it seems to bring out all the hidden flavors of the apple and mincemeat.

MINCEMEAT PUDDING

4 medium-sized cooking apples
1 cup prepared mincemeat
1½ cups moist bread crumbs
¾ cup sugar Juice of ½ lemon
1½ tsp. cinnamon 1-3 cup water
1½ tbsp. butter or margarine

Pare, core and slice apples; place in casserole, together with half the mincemeat. Combine bread crumbs, sugar and cinnamon; sprinkle one half over apples and dot with half the butter. Repeat with remaining apples, mincemeat, crumbs and butter. Add lemon juice and water and cover. Bake in moderate oven (375 deg. F.) for 45 minutes. Serve with hard sauce, foamy sauce, or rum or wine sauce. Makes 6 servings.

Have you ever tried combining prunes and cranberries? If not, you have a treat in store in this prune jiffy pudding. We have prunes in the market, and with cranberries seasonal we urge you to try this dessert soon.

PRUNE JIFFY PUDDING

2 cups cooked prunes
1½ cups uncooked cranberries
1 cup honey Few grains salt
1 cup liquid from prunes
1 tbsp. plain gelatin
½ cup cold water Sponge cake

Measure prunes, remove pits and cut prunes into small pieces. Combine with cranberries, honey, liquid and salt in a saucepan, and stir to blend. Bring to a boil and cook and stir 3 or 4 minutes. Remove from heat, add gelatin moistened in cold water, and stir to dissolve. Line 6 custard cups, sides and bottoms, with very thin slices of sponge cake. Finish filling cups with prune-cranberry mixture. Chill until firm; unmold. Serve with soft custard or whipped cream. Makes 6 servings.

DATE-NUT STEAMED PUDDING

5 tbsp. shortening 1 egg
½ cup sugar 2¼ cups flour
3½ tsp. baking powder
¼ tsp. salt 1 cup milk
20 dates, finely chopped
½ cup chopped walnuts

Cream shortening and sugar. Add well beaten egg, then, alternately, milk and sifted dry ingredients. Add chopped dates and nuts, floured. Steam in greased pudding dish or in individual molds for 2 hours, protecting the pudding with waxed paper. Serve warm with lemon or vanilla sauce as preferred.

LEMON SAUCE

½ cup sugar 1 tbsp. cornstarch
¼ tsp. salt 1 cup boiling water
1 tsp. grated lemon rind
3 tbsp. lemon juice
2 tbsp. butter or margarine

Mix together sugar, cornstarch and salt; gradually stir in hot water, bring to a boil and cook 15 minutes, stirring until smooth, thickened and clear; stir in lemon rind and juice and butter or margarine. Makes 1¼ cups sauce, or 6 servings.

Get Your Man's Idea

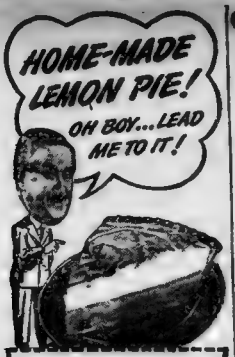
By BETTINA BEDWELL

IF YOU are one of those lucky girls or women with a man around, it is a very good idea to ask his opinion about the new dress or hat or whatnot you are going to get for the holidays.

Generally, I have found, men have pretty good taste in ladies' dress. And, anyway, if your man likes and helps you pick your clothes, he is not going to be able to do any complaining about them afterward.

In Paris, it was quite usual for men to help their women select their clothes, but here it is hard to get one of the critters into a shop to extract an opinion from him. However, it's worth a try, and the results are likely to justify the effort.

It is my firm belief that a lot of our more glaring mistakes in hats, dress lines and colors would be avoided if we did get a man's opinion beforehand.



EASY RECIPE: Mix contents of one package of My-T-Fine Lemon Pie Filling with 2½ cups water, 2 or 3 tablespoons sugar and 2 slightly beaten egg yolks. Walpole Boys in JVA Unit

Latest recruit in the ranks of the Junior Victory Army is Richard Noonan of 181 Kendall st., Walpole, who with a friend of his, has formed a corps of 15 members, all working for Victory.

"Our ages are from 11 to 14 years," Richard reports. "We've been doing many things for the war effort and we would like very much to join the JVA." He and his group have been duly voted in.

"Among the things we've already done," he says, "are collecting razors, records, playing cards and any small radios we can find for the Red Cross. The Red Cross then gives them to the wounded soldiers."

The Victory Eagles, JVA Corps No. 151 in Dorchester, have taken active part in collection drives lately.

In one drive alone they gathered 650 pounds of scrap and 250 pounds of tin cans and "more paper than we were able to count," says Buddy Cohen, the commander.

Their corps has 10 members, all living in the vicinity of Stowrd., Dorchester, and Merrill Cohen serves as captain.

The Revere JVA with six corps, the Eisenhower the Patton, the Hellcats, the All-Stars, the Clark and the Blackhawks, have set high records in paper collection. In the latest drives they have collected almost 3000 pounds of waste paper.

To join the JVA, send your name, age and full address to Junior Victory Army headquarters, P. O. Box 228, Boston, Mass. If, in addition to enlistment, you want the JVA insignia pin and membership card, enclose a 10-cent coin well wrapped in your letter.

First of Musicales Draws Many

By BETTY ALDEN

JAMES MELTON, one of America's favorite tenors, attracted a large and fashionable audience to the first of this season's Morning Musicales at the Statler. This annual concert series benefits the Boston School of Occupational Therapy.

So excited about her impending trip to New York to meet her Navy husband for the first time in months, Mrs. Jansen Noyes could hardly keep her attention on the concert, delightful as it was, and hustled off after the program to pick up her railroad ticket. She wore her hair in a net snood above a handsome beaver coat and powder blue flannel dress.

Mrs. H. Harrison Culver

Just back from visiting Lt. and Mrs. Reid Jorgensen (Virginia Phelan) in Minnesota, Mrs. James J. Phelan was bubbling over with news of her little grandson, Reid Jr., and looked as charming as ever in light blue wool with matching hat and black broadtail coat.

Glimpsed enjoying a cup of coffee and sociable chat before the program were Mrs. Francis Hastings, who moved back to her Beacon st., apartment from Hingham this week, and was modishly dressed in pale green wool with soft brown squirrel jacket; Mrs. Frank G. Allen, Mrs. H. Harrison Culver, Mrs. Joel M. Barnes, Mrs. Oscar C. Lane, Mrs. Hovey Slayton, Mrs. Winthrop Jameson in a becoming violet dress and hat with double pearl choker, Mrs. John W. Filoon, Mrs. Charles Sawyer, Jr., Mrs. Charles Bacon coming in with Mrs. Channing Cox, Mrs. Robert Cushman and Mrs. George Saltonstall West.

ROMANCE DEPARTMENT: Attractive Grace ver Planck of Waban is counting the days till Thanksgiving week-end for she has chosen the Saturday after the holiday as the date for her wedding to Lt. James A. Roberts, USNR, of Milton.

ROUND AND ABOUT: Eleanor Frothingham Navarro and Mrs. Francis Harte modelling luscious satin and lace lingerie at the season's first evening fashion show. It was given by Mrs. Philip Johnson of Lexington to celebrate the opening of her new shop on Newbury st.

Mrs. Harry P. Merchant has rounded up a group of friends to help her with hostess duties at the Sherry Room tea party in the Women's Republican Club tomorrow afternoon. Among the members assisting her are Mrs. Marion L. Higgins, Mrs. Charles Pengra and Mrs. Wilbur S. Grant, who will pour, Mrs. Edward Hamlin, Mrs. Jesse J. Burks and Mrs. Norman C. Nagle.

Just back from a trip to New York with her mother, Mrs. Robert Miller was glimpsed on a shopping spree before the Vincent Club luncheon, very vogulish in a gray suit striped with burgundy, perky gray velled hat and brown squirrel jacket.

SWAN

You've seen Mama Swan for years in Swan Soap ads. She stands for the mildness, purity, and sudsiness of Swan Soap . . . and that should give you ideas for her first name. You might call her "Mrs. Sudsy Swan" because Swan Soap is so rich and extra sudsy. Or "June Swan" because Swan Soap is mild as a day in June.

You can't use the above suggestions, but you can think up better ones! Send 'em in! And be sure to complete this sentence in 25 words or less: "I like Swan Soap better because . . ."

IMPORTANT: Mail the wrapper from a cake of Swan Soap (large or regular size) along with your suggestion for Mama Swan's name to Swan, Box 36, New York 8, N. Y.

Send in all the names you wish—but be sure each name suggestion is accompanied by a Swan wrapper and the 25-word statement.

Also send us the name of your Swan dealer.

And get your entry in now! The time is getting short! Swan's Contest closes December 15th, 1944. So get busy and earn some of that prize money!

JUST FOLLOW THESE SIMPLE RULES:

1. Send in a first name which you think is appropriate for Mama Swan. Then complete this sentence in 25 words or less: "I like Swan Soap better because . . ."

2. You may secure an official entry blank from your dealer, or write on your own stationery. Use pen, pencil, or typewriter, but be sure to print clearly your own name and address and that of the dealer where you bought Swan. Let your dealer help you . . . and if you win a prize, he wins one, too. Write on one side of paper only.

3. Mail your entry to Swan, Box 36, New York 8, N. Y. Submit as many entries as you wish, but each entry must be accompanied by a Swan Soap wrapper (large or regular size). Each entry must include both a suggestion for Swan's first name and the 25-word statement. Use sufficient postage.

4. The winning names will be selected for their originality and appropriateness by an independent organization of experienced contest judges. In case of ties, the 25-word statement and the accompanying name suggestion for Mama Swan's first name) will be the deciding factor . . . on the basis of originality, sincerity, and aptness of thought. If there are any remaining ties, duplicate prizes will be awarded to each tying contestant. Decision of the judges will be final. No entries can be returned. All entries and ideas therein become the property of Lever Brothers Company.

5. Any person 18 years of age or older in the continental United States or Puerto Rico and Hawaii may compete, except employees of Lever Bros. Company, their advertising agencies, and their families. Contest subject to all Federal and State regulations. All entries must be the original work of contestants submitted in his or her own name. All members of a family may compete, but no more than one prize will be awarded to one family.

6. Names of major prize winners will be announced on the George Burns & Gracie Allen and "Bright Horizon" radio programs as soon as possible after the contest closes. Complete list of winners will be sent to anyone sending stamped, self-addressed envelope.

7. Contest closes December 15, 1944, and all entries must be postmarked before midnight of that date, and received before January 8th, 1945.

Salvage Drive In Home Stretch

Boston's November salvage drive entered the home stretch today with the total of reclaimed paper in the first 14 wards of the city only slightly behind the record set last month, while collection of tin showed a gain over October.

Paper and tin collections in the citywide drive were made today in Wards 15, 16 and 17 of Dorchester, and Ward 18, comprising Hyde Park and parts of Roslindale and Mattapan. The campaign winds up tomorrow when city trucks will canvass Ward 19, Jamaica Plain; Ward 20, West Roxbury and Roslindale, and Wards 21 and 22, Allston and Brighton.

Patriotic householders and storekeepers in the first 14 wards canvassed provided 722,700 pounds of paper and 107,000 pounds of tin cans. Last month, the same sections produced 728,698 pounds of paper and 96,810 pounds of tin.

Comedy Delights Trans-Lux Fans

By MARY X. SULLIVAN

"Mr. Winkle Goes to War," which opened yesterday at the Trans-Lux, is hereby recommended to all henpecked husbands and more particularly to all wives who think they know best.

As a matter of further fact, it can be warmly recommended anyhow. Columbia Pictures has produced in this Edward G. Robinson vehicle a heart-warming film drama which eschews all the hackneyed situations and corny sentimentalism which mar most pictures of this type.

Robinson is wonderful. (Every time he stars in a picture he proves that he is one of the most intelligent actors on the screen.) He plays a Milquetoast bank clerk who becomes the town war hero t the age of 44, after having been drafted into the Army before 38 became the age limit.

Fo 14 years Mr. Winkle had been a bank clerk and hated it. His solace was his "fix-it" shop, where he did odd jobs with a tyke played by Ted Donaldson as his assistant and great admirer. Mrs. Winkle frowned on the shop, but when Mr. Winkle decided to quit his job and devote all his time to his fix-it business, she put her foot down.

Ruth Warrick, as Amy Winkle, looks like a wife and not like a glamor girl. She tells Wilbert that either he stay in the bank or move into the Fix-It shop to live, and he chooses the latter. At this point the Army takes him.

Louis Says He Will Win From Conn in Title Bout

By JACK CONWAY

"WHEN I DEFEND my world's heavyweight championship again, I shall give Billy Conn the first crack at it," declared Sergt. Joe Louis who will referee a wrestling bout between Yvon Robert and Sandor Szabo at the Garden tonight. "I believe that Conn and myself will draw $1,000,000.

"Apart from the money that I can earn boxing Conn, there is another important reason why I wish to clash with the Pittsburgh challenger. Billy, like myself, has been in the Army for several years, and has gathered some ring rust.

Sgt. Joe Louis

"This will make things even when we meet. While I have boxed numerous exhibitions during the past two years, I have not had a real ring test under fire.

"On my present tour, I have boxed when I have not acted as referee. I have won some of my bouts with a few punches. This does not mean a thing as my opponents have had very limited experience. It has felt good, of course, to let my best Sunday punch fly, but I am not entitled to any credit for my wins. My opposition has been very weak.

"It has felt good to be touring again. I get a kick out of sports crowds, while I am also making some needed money. I am not 'broke', but I do need ready cash. You know I have been out of the big money for a long time.

"I have drawn good crowds in Baltimore, Philadelphia, Buffalo and in the other cities where I have shown. This has been pleasing as I feel I have held my popularity with the public. Perhaps all these folks will go to New York when I defend my title against Billy Conn.

"I think I can beat Conn. He gave me plenty of trouble until I caught up with him in the thirteenth round of our last bout. You know, though, that I always go better with a ring rival when I meet him for the second time."

Army Boxers Promising

LOUIS DECLARED that some of the Army heavyweights he saw abroad looked promising.

"I do not remember the names of the boxers, but two or three of the heavyweights I saw in Army bouts looked promising," said the "Brown Bomber." "None of these boxers, however, will be ready for a title bout when the war ends. They will require much more ring experience and polish than they now have. Of course, I would like to see the man who takes my title come from the Army.

"I saw a few foreign heavyweights while overseas, but none of them were of much account. I could beat any of them easily."

Louis answers questions readily. He has a fine command of language. Travel and meeting with leaders in the various walks of life has added to Joe's education.

* * *

Weighs 208 Pounds

LOUIS ONLY weighs 208 pounds, according to Max Waxman who is directing his furlough tour.

"This means it would only take Louis six weeks to get into condition for a championship bout," said Waxman.

Mike Jacobs of the 20th Century Club, who has the boxing rights on Louis, told me in New York over the week-end that if the war in Europe ends early next year that he will make an effort to have a Louis-Conn bout staged next June. Louis and Conn have both been overseas and so would be eligible for early discharges from the Army under its present demobilization program.

After his refereeing engagement at the Garden tonight, Louis will make one more appearance on his tour, and report back for Army duties on Saturday. The Treasury Department plans to feature Louis during its sixth war bond drive. The program will call for numerous personal appearances at war plants and also for talks over the radio.

A-N Site Decision Due

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 (AP)—A direct answer to the question of whether the Army-Navy football game Dec. 2 will be moved from Annapolis to a big city stadium may be received today from Navy Secretary Forrestal. The matter was up for a going-over at a news conference arranged for Forrestal this afternoon.

President Roosevelt said Tuesday that he planned to discuss the possibility of switching the game with War Secretary Stimson. No official developments were reported yesterday.

While Forrestal was not mentioned specifically in Mr. Roosevelt's plans, nevertheless the Navy Secretary is one of the officials having a big say-so on any shift of the game.

The Navy Department said last night that a change in the site is "still extremely doubtful . . . that the "score still is 0-0."

A definite decision apparently must be made by Friday. Capt. C. O. Humphreys, the Naval Academy's athletic director, said it would be physically impossible to print and distribute tickets after Friday.

Washington Lions Wait Hub Garden Games With Pics

N. Y. Handle Up 44 P. C.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16 (AP)—New York's most prosperous racing season dumped more than $26,500,000 in taxes into the State treasury in 1944 as its share of the $410,230,402, wagered during the 189-day period, according to unofficial figures compiled today.

The total mutuel handle, including the nine-day victory meeting that closed the Metropolitan campaign yesterday at Belmont Park, represents an increase of approximately 44 per cent over last year's take of $284,635,717.

It was more than four times as much as the total in 1940, the first year pari-mutuel betting was legalized in the State.

When the Legislature sanctioned machine betting, it was predicted that the State would realize $5,000,000 annually, but the amount has soared from $5,998,953.03 in 1940 by steady increases to a staggering total of five times the estimated amount.

The average wagering per day for the 1944 season was $2,170,531. The attendance was 23,263. Actual turnstile count was 4,496,788 and breakage $3,230,294, subject to an official checkup later.

The State took 6 per cent of the money wagered, and the tracks 4 per cent, breakways was to the nickel and the odd cents were retained and split on a 60-40 basis by the State and tracks.

War relief organizations realized more than $1,900,000 from 19 special programs staged during the season, including $725,000 from the victory meeting.

Olympics Home For Lion Games

Having completed their strenuous five-game schedule away from home, the Boston Olympics today returned home to prepare for their first games of the season on Boston Garden ice this week-end. The Washington Lions will furnish the opposition, with the contests taking place on Saturday and Sunday evenings.

The Pics finished up in Baltimore last night where they played their third game in the past four nights, and left for home with every intention of preparing a hot reception for the Washington club, which came back into the league this season after a two-year absence only to hand the Pics their first defeat of the campaign by a 7-4 score last Tuesday.

As a matter of fact the loss to the Lions was only the third for the Olympics in their last 43 regular-season games, for the Bostonians won 36 and tied one out of 39 Eastern League tilts last year and then added three more victories in their first three starts this season.

Cross Country Is Next School Magnet

By MIKE GILLOOLY

The closest thing to madcap marathoning—cross-country running—will be attempting to bite a bit of the sports spotlight in schoolboy competition Saturday morning when Boston University will sponsor its annual grind over the hills and dales of Franklin Park golf course—with the obliging Tom Hines of Brookline High School in charge of affairs.

Athletic Director Hines took over the meet two years ago when B. U. officials, lacking the required man-power, had decided to let the interscholastic cross-country run pass by the board.

Six schools have entered the 2½ mile obstacle run, recognized as one of the most marvelous conditioning sports on the schoolboy schedule. They'll be sending 63 athletes to the starting line at 10:30 in the morning, with 15 individuals in line for prizes and the group grinding it out for the single team prize. The entry list includes Brookline, Melrose — a pre-post favorite, St. John's of Danvers, Arlington, Milton and Braintree.

For the first time, a private school and non-member of the Mass. Headmasters' Ass'n, St. John's High, will be among the starters.

Coach Harry Downes of Brookline High appears sprier than any of the kids on his football squad . . . he's elated over the birth of his third son at the Richardson House . . . mother and baby are both doing very nicely and will probably be home for Thanksgiving . . . that's the same day that Jim Duffey, center, and Dana Estes, quarterback, will be returning at full strength to starting berths for the annual clash with Newton . . . and for all-scholastic timber, watch Capt. Jim Brennan in this contest.

B. C. HIGH A NAURAL

Wonder if any of these school managers, attempting to arrange post season games, have given any thought to Boston College High? . . . Coach Clem McCann's Eaglets, paced by Fullback Jack Casey and Guard Paul King, have been romping through the Boston ranks and they've more than held their own in scrimmages with suburban schools . . . a well-balanced outfit, B. C. High would be a swell test for any of the outside schools.

Coach Jim Mastroglovanni offers no excuses for his Belmont team's loss to Winchester last Saturday . . . but it's evident that there'll be changes made for the Watertown game Turkey Day . . . one of these will possibly find Capt. Bob Connolly moving to a tackle and Bob Carroll shifting from a tackle to an end.

If anybody wants to compare injuries they can cry out their troubles to Coach Bill Ohrenberger of Boston English—and be matched . . . For the Latin game at Harvard Stadium, English will be without Halfback Bob Farrell, Center Carlo Mantini, possibly Backs Don Murphy and Jackie Maloney . . . Murphy, out with the grippe, may be ready . . . Maloney will test his injured shoulder tomorrow against Dorchester.

And now that the Strayer Report has been issued concerning athletics, what is holding up the appointment of an assistant to Joe McKenney . . . he'd be especially valuable right now with McKenney ailing and forcing himself to work . . . McKenney has to —with the biggest week of the grid season on hand.

Detroit Takes Leafs, 8 to 4

TORONTO, Nov. 16 (INS)—A strong Detroit team defeated the Toronto Maple Leafs 8 to 4 last night and moved to within two points of the second-place Canadiens.

The Wings led 1 to 0 in the first period on a goal by Bruneteau, who later was hurt and had to retire. Hollett and McAtee added second period goals before Metz scored for the Leafs.

The third period was wide open. Detroit added two more to make it 5 to 1 only to have Leafs get two quick ones from Kennedy to put them back in the running. But then Reggie Hamilton got a penalty and Wings ran in three quick goals, all three on easy shots. Leafs added one before the finish.

Eddie Gingrich May Not Face Cornell

HANOVER, N. H., Nov. 16 (AP)—A respect for the passing ability of Cornell's Al Dekedrum has been evident at all Dartmouth football sessions this week. Coach Earl Brown and his aids have been concentrating on defense against the Cornell passes as put on by the scrubs.

It was disclosed yesterday that Ed Miller, first-string right end, probably would see little action Saturday against the Cornellians. The condition of Eddie Gingrich also was described as doubtful.

Purdue's Running Stuff Bothers Navy

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 16 (AP)—Navy's head football coach Comdr. Oscar E. Hagberg sent his stalwart line against the junior varsity yesterday in heavy drills as preparation for Purdue University's running attack.

Coaches said the Tars, who usually at this time of year concentrate on the Army fray, were more anxious to jump the hump posed by the Purdue invasion of Baltimore Stadium Saturday.

Adams Jinx Maple Leafs

By the Associated Press

Coach Jack Adams of the Detroit Red Wings seems to have hit upon the formula for victory over the Toronto Maple Leafs in the National Hockey League. The Wings defeated the Leafs, 8-4, last night for the second time this season. The Red Wings triumphed in their first meeting in Detroit, Sunday night, 4-2.

Before meeting the Red Wings, the Leafs had won six straight and the league leadership. They still hold the leadership after their two losses to Detroit, but now they have only a two-point margin over the Canadiens, who in turn lead the third-place Wings by two points.

Adams' victory recipe seems to consist of tying up the Bodnar-Schriner-Carr line which carried the Leafs to their previous six wins. They failed to get a scoring point Sunday night in Detroit and they were muzzled again last night.

Bill (Flash) Hollett, the 32-year-old fruit farmer from Clarkson in the Toronto area, was the sparkplug of the Detroit attack last night. The big defenseman scored two unassisted goals and his defensive play was of a high order. Rookie Steve Wochy was the top Detroit point-getter, however, with one goal and two assists.

Ted (Teeter) Kennedy, the 18-year-old native of Port Colborne, Ont., was the chief Toronto offensive threat. He scored two goals in 20 seconds of the third period and assisted on another by Bob Davidson.

Eight of the 12 goals were scored in the third period, five for Detroit and three for Toronto. Three of the Detroit goals—by Jackson, Wochy and Grosso—came in 28 seconds while Defenseman Reg Hamilton of Toronto served a tripping penalty.

Late Sports Highlights

NEW YORK, Nov. 16 (AP)—Manager Mel Ott of the New York Giants is counting on Andy Hansen, Frank Seward and Jack Brewer to develop into dependable pitchers in 1945.

The trio of youngsters did not set the National League on fire last season but each showed promise, winning a total of seven games for the Polo Grounders.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16 (AP)—Andy Varipapa, now managed by Joe Falcaro, has posted $2500 in an effort to make a match with an outstanding bowler on an 80-game, home-and-home basis affair.

Varipapa is particularly interested in meeting Ned Day, national match-game champ, or Buddy Bomar of Chicago.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16 (AP)—Coach Lou Little of Columbia, whose Lions absorbed a 35-7 pasting at the hands of Penn last Saturday, thinks the Quakers have enough to score on Army but not enough to give the Cadets serious trouble.

"Skippy Minisi is good when he's clicking on reverses and passes," observed Little, "but maybe I go for Minisi just because he's a southpaw."

P. S.—Lou is a lefthander, too.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16 (AP)—Chick Wergeles is touting welterweight Tommy Bell as "another Beau Jack" after buying the contract of the Youngstown, Ohio, belter from Chris Dundee.

Wergeles and Bowman Milligan, who piloted the Augusta shoe shine boy to the lightweight crown, hope to build Bell into a Madison Square headliner.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 16 (AP)—The Battleship Steeplechase Handicap to be run at Pimlico Friday was named after Mrs. Marion Dupont Scott's great jumper, Battleship, the first American bred and owned winner of the Grand National at Aintree, England, in 1938.

Garden Court Teams Ready

College basketball teams coming to Boston Garden this season will not be wanting of practice, for several of the institutions already are in their second month of pre-season drilling.

Reports emanating from the different campuses in the East and Mid-West are optimistic in their forecasts and New England court fans are assured of witnessing some stellar contests.

Holy Cross, facing the strongest schedule in its history, has a squad of 54 candidates. There are seven others who can't report until the season's finale with Boston College a week from Sunday.

The Crusaders meet DePauw University, Valparaiso and St. Francis in their three Garden appearances, and the 18 six-footers on the Holy Cross squad may prove of much help during the 12-game schedule that lies ahead.

Yank Game Draws Schoolboy Punters

While interest in the Boston Yanks-Brooklyn Tigers' game at Fenway Park, Sunday afternoon, tops the grid list for this week-end in these parts, the finals of the schoolboy punting championship for the Ted Collins Trophy between the halves of this clash are certainly stirring up a lot of controversy.

There have been two eliminations, and six booters from the Greater Boston area have survived. Of the Boston punters, there are Robert Manning of South Boston, Leon Deninger of Technical High, and James McMorrow of Boston Latin; while Robert Thurrell of Saugus, John Carroll of Malden and Izzy Yodlin of Malden complete the list.

Oddly enough, there weren't more than five yards separating the six punters in the trials. Bob Manning of South Boston got a left footed boot away that traveled 62 yards, while Bob Thurrell of Saugus was high the next week with a 61-yard left. The other four have hit 57 or better, which means that the finals Sunday should be very closely contested, with the best competitor under pressure finally winning the coveted Ted Collins award.

BAND ON HAND, TOO

In addition to the kicking contest, added entertainment Sunday will be furnished by the famed Blessed Sacrament drill team from Cambridge and the colorful 50-piece St. Ambrose band from Dorchester.

And in order that high school youngsters will be able to be on hand for this big day, a special high school section has been set aside. The admission for the schoolboys and girls will be 50 cents, tax included.

Meanwhile, Coach Herb Kopf sent his charges through a long stiff drill yesterday and put in a few new plays which he feels will go against the standard Brooklyn defenses. Everybody reported in good condition, and as a result, the Yanks will be at full strength for the first time in a month.

Yale Begins to Fear No. Carolina

NEW HAVEN, Ct., Nov. 16 (AP)—The Yale football team, warned by Coach Howie Odell that next Saturday's opponent North Carolina, would be "gunning for us," drilled arduously on defensive tactics yesterday.

Odell told his charges that North Carolina, for all its unimpressive record this season, would give undefeated, untied Yale its most severe test to date because of Navy transfers which he said had greatly strengthened the Tar Heel squad.

Down in Flames

From out of the skies over Germany comes this dramatic photo ... the death plunge of a Flying Fortress. As the B-17 goes down, leaving a trail of smoke and flame, other planes in the formation drop their bombs on a synthetic oil plant at Merseburg. The stricken 'fort' received a direct hit which tore off the entire nose section.
